

Steve Jobs: The Man Who Thought Different (Arabic ed)

By Karen Blumenthal, Abdel Maqsud Abdel Karim Al Sayed

Bloomsbury Qatar Foundation Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Steve Jobs: The Man Who Thought Different (Arabic ed), Karen Blumenthal, Abdel Maqsud Abdel Karim Al Sayed, Inventor. Visionary. Genius. Dropout. Adopted. Steve Jobs was the founder of Apple and he was all of these things. Steve Jobs has been described as a showman, artist, tyrant, genius, jerk. Through his life he was loved, hated, admired and dismissed, yet he was a living legend; the genius who founded Apple in his parent's garage when he was just 21 years-old, revolutionising the music world. He single-handedly introduced the first computer that could sit on your desk and founded and nurtured a company called Pixar bringing to life Oscar winning animations Toy Story and Finding Nemo. So how did the man, who was neither engineer nor computer geek change the world we live in, making us want every product he touched? On graduation day in 2005, a fifty-year-old Steve Jobs said: 'Today I want to tell you three stories from my life, That's it. Just three stories'. The first story is about connecting the dots. My second story is about love and loss. My third story is about death. This is his...
