Its rippling waves know nothing of the fierce joy with which more stormy waters rush toward a valley, but dance gayly over the smooth stones and pebbles, which offer no resistance, between low banks of never-ending alder trees and willows. On either side the boughs have met and intertwined, till even the sky above can scarcely penetrate and discover this little stream, which like a vein courses with exuberant; life throughout this despised country. Even so, on a larger scale, has many a false tongue misrepresented in the world at large these extensive plains of Northern Germany. Friends, be persuaded just for once to pay a summer visit to the haide. It does not indeed rear its tall form toward the sky; the glowing diadem of the Alps or a crown of rhododendrons you will seek in vain; no crest of stone, as in the Niedergebirges, or broad sparkling stream...
